SOLID

- 37 Contemporary

Smoked - Each piece is smoked anywhere between 12-72 hours. The duration, intensity, and temperature of the exposure creates the desired darkness and tint by lifting the naturally existing tannins in the wood to the surface. The result is a beautiful standout colour that looks rich and gorgeous while still maintaining its natural beauty.

Wired-Brushed - A subtle way to distress a floor is through wire-brushing. The widely popular process involves brushing the planks with a wire brush to add texture and bring out the grain. Wire-brushed floors tend to wear much better than smoother finishes as it helps to conceal scratches that may arise over time.

Saw-marked - An increasingly popular finishing technique that we offer at Grandeur is saw-marked hardwood floors. As its name implies, the saw is lowered onto the plank with varying placements to give the wood a more rugged and slightly distressed look. This look provides a beautiful contrast to the natural grain - making the floor look more natural and fashionably worn.

Hand Scraped - Hand scraping floors is another great way to add character to a room. The planks are shaved in spots parallel to the planks for a rougher texture that creates the impression of age. Not only does this process offer a timeless appeal, but hand-scraping floors helps reduce the impact of wear and imperfections.

Solid, Engineered, & Vinyl Flooring

Solid, engineered, and vinyl flooring are each very different in construction and ideal use. When looking at new flooring, it is important to understand the differences between each type of floor.

Solid hardwood is lumber that is milled from one piece of wood. Other flooring types such as engineered hardwood, vinyl, and laminate are all either wood composites or synthetic. Solid hardwood is ideal for any rooms above grade that do not usually come in contact with water. It is also important to note that solid hardwood is not recommended to be installed directly onto concrete, making other wood types ideal for those uses.

Engineered hardwood floor planks are a combination of a hardwood top layer and durable engineered plywood sheets. The plank core generally is comprised of multiple layers of plywood, or other similar structures, that are resistant to moisture, humidity, and varying temperatures allowing it to be installed on any grade. Due to their increased stability, engineered hardwood collections are generally available in longer and wider planks than their solid counterparts. It is important that our engineered hardwood products be kept in rooms that are between 30 to 60 percent in humidity as per industry standards.

Our SPC vinyl flooring planks are made from synthetic materials as opposed to wood materials. Our vinyl flooring products are VOC free as it is known to have compounding long-term health effects. This type of flooring is ideal for areas in contact with water such as kitchens and bathrooms as the planks themselves are waterproof - this also allows them to be installed on any grade. All of our vinyl products offer the convenient drop-lock-click system that helps in reducing the time and resources required for installation.

Most engineered accessories are custom made per each order, while vinyl is available right away. For engineered products, please order at least a week in advance.

Less is more. The unfinished look of Grandeur's Paradise Collection celebrates the beauty of nature and life. Natural is currently one of the most trendy colours; not surprising, as natural colours are soothing and greatly brighten up your space. Planks in the Paradise Collection are smoked ever so lightly to entice tannins in the wood to surface - this process helps to achieve a genuine wood colour naturally from within.

Bliss Collection

Wood Plastic Composite Vinyl Wide-Plank

Each colour from the Bliss Collection was picked for its popular, trendy design and robust locking system. Bliss Collection is our most high-end vinyl product, constructed from Wood Plastic Composite, which is warmer to touch relative to most other vinyl products on the market today. To maintain durability and strength, Bliss WPC comes in extra wide 9 inch planks and 5 ft in length at 7.0mm thick with 1.5mm of cork underlayment. 5G installation secures the planks with a visible and audible locking function. When a panel is folded down, a flexible plastic tongue is pushed into a tongue-groove. As the panel reaches its final position, the locking tongue snaps out into a wedge groove, emits a "click" sound, and locks the product vertically.
